PUBLIC LECTURE

FIFTY YEARS OF AUSTRALIAN MIGRATION STUDIES

A conversation between Professor James Jupp and Philip Adams in celebration of James Jupp’s 80th year.

Additional Speakers
Ellie Vasta, Stephen Castles, Melissa Phillips, Jock Collins

Professor James Jupp has been writing about Australian migration and multiculturalism for nearly fifty years with the publication of his first books Australia Party Politics (1964) and Arrivals and Departures (1966). He has been a strong advocate for multiculturalism appearing on several national and state committees. His latest publication Multiculturalism and Integration was published by the ANU ePress in 2011. He is a member of the Order of Australia for services to public policy in immigration and multiculturalism and Australian history.

Refreshments will be served from 5.30 – 6.00pm

WHERE Sydney Mechanics' School of Arts, 280 Pitt St, Sydney

WHEN Tuesday, 30 October 2012, 5.30 – 7.30pm

RSVP 26 October to rwil2924@uni.Sydney.edu.au