STUDY TITLE Child Disability and Families in Australia
RESEARCHER Annemarie Ashton-Wyatt, PhD Candidate, School of Demography

Some of the issues discussed during your research may involve sensitive topics or raise issues which you had not formerly considered. If you feel any distress at any time following your participation or just need someone to talk to, please do not hesitate to contact one of the following services:

- Lifeline on 13 11 14 offers 24 hour support to people in immediate crisis;
- Beyondblue on 1300 22 4636 offers information, advice and referrals around anxiety and depression;
- Kids Help Line on 1800 55 1800 offers free, confidential and anonymous telephone counselling for young people aged between 5 and 25 years old;
- Mensline on 1300 78 9978 offers confidential support for men with family and relationship concerns;
- Parentline on 1300 30 1300 offers advice and support to parents and carers as well as delivering individually paced parenting training and support programs;
- Family members providing care to people with disability can access support via the Commonwealth Carelink and Respite Centre on 1800 052 222; and
- Relationships Australia provides support and services for families and couples. They can be reached on 1300 364 277.

If you require any further information on the research project, please contact:

Researcher
Annemarie Ashton-Wyatt.
Telephone (02) 6125 7035 or 0439 930 501. Email annemarie.ashton-wyatt@anu.edu.au

Supervisor
Dr Edith Gray.
Telephone (02) 6125 4609. Email edith.gray@anu.edu.au

School of Demography
Australian National University, Canberra ACT 0200 Australia. Telephone: (02) 6125 0124

ANU Human Ethics
This research project has been approved by the Human Ethics Research Committee at the Australian National University. The protocol number is 2011/662.
Human Ethics Officer, Research Office.
Telephone (02) 6125 7945. Email human.ethics.officer@anu.edu.au